Online Supplemental Material: Coding of committees

This appendix sets out how each committee was coded on the basis of its ‘gender’ and ‘prestige’. The coding frame is derived from that set out by Krook and O’Brien (2012: 846) in their comparative analysis of ministerial portfolios:

Policy areas by gender

Masculine: Agriculture, Food Safety, Fisheries, & Livestock; Communication & Information; Construction & Public Works; Correctional Services/Police; Defense, Military & National/Public Security; Enterprise; Finance & Economy; Foreign Affairs; Government/Interior/Home Affairs; Industry & Commerce; Labor; Religious Affairs; Science & Technology; Transportation.

Neutral: Civil Service; Displaced Persons & Expatriates; Energy; Environment & Natural Resources; Housing; Justice; Minority Affairs; Parliamentary Affairs; Public Works; Planning & Development; Regional; Reform; Sports; Tourism.

Feminine: Aging/Elderly; Children and Family; Culture; Education; Health and Social Welfare; Heritage; Women’s Affairs; Youth.

Policy areas by prestige

High-prestige: Defense, Military & National/Public Security; Finance and Economy; Foreign Affairs; Government/Interior/Home Affairs.

Medium-prestige: Agriculture, Food Safety, Fisheries, & Livestock; Civil Service; Communications and Information; Construction and Public Works; Correctional Services/Police; Education; Energy; Environment and Natural Resources; Health and Social Welfare; Enterprise; Housing; Industry and Commerce; Justice; Labor; Planning and Development; Parliamentary Affairs; Religious Affairs; Public Works; Transportation.

Low-prestige: Aging/Elderly; Children and Family; Culture; Displaced Persons & Expatriates; Heritage; Minority Affairs; Regional; Reform; Science & Technology; Sports; Tourism; Women’s Affairs; Youth.

Details of how each committee was coded are set out in the following two tables.
